Everything- Genesis 3:20, Ephesians 5:24

When God made heaven and the earth, He finishes the world on the fifth day. Then God adds a human being to end His work on the sixth day. Adam existed because God desired to make man in His image. Adam gains favor with God and inherits the domain over all creation. Still, with inheritance, there is the responsibility of obeying the commandments given by the owner. God made sure Adam enjoy the best of all that He made throughout the six days of work. The only thing that Adam must do is only obey the instruction of God about one tree in the garden of Eden. The fact to bear in mind is Adam receives instruction from God and must choose to honor it or not. The challenge Adam will obtain a helper that is opposite of him but from him. This helpmeet is made by God even though it was from Adam. Now Eve is the woman that God made to support Adam. She did not exist until after God instructed Adam about the tree of knowledge of good and evil.

This canny serpent (which is the devil) must have known that Eve did not take the instruction given to Adam seriously. Even though God did not come directly to her, she was well aware. The serpent deceives Eve with her listening to him and gazing at the forbidden tree. The enemy uses the view and voice from people to compromise.
