God is love. Jesus loves us. To be a disciple, we must love God the Father, Jesus Christ, the Son of God, and love others. A disciple must be able to love people, such as family, relatives, neighbors, co-workers, and even enemies. The love of God in a disciple will enable them to accomplish the work of God.

There are several characteristics a disciple must have to function as one to fulfill the duty. The disciple must be able to hear instructions and proceed to follow, relying on God to help complete the task. In everything, the children of God should intercede in all endeavors because there is no guarantee that all we do will run smoothly. After all, no matter the position or title we have in the church of God, we are servants and must be ready to serve. For a disciple, we should be Christ-like, and we must be like Him. That means we must do our best to be blameless within the public eye. This attribute is possible through constant prayer and to live according to the Word of God.

However, a disciple must adopt this practice daily to achieve positive results.

Prayer: Our Heavenly Father, help me to remain obedient to you and your Holy Word. Amen
