Worship is a group of believers participating together inside of a church. However, there are several ways to worship God. They are our words, our works, availability, our giving, and our sacrifice. Are we consistently in true worship with God? Or only worship God when we potentially need or want something from Him.

Believers that set time aside to worship the Lord will eventually find Him. Therefore, we should be able to worship Him even at times when all is well. This action is necessary and must be consistent. The reason is for the preparation when difficult times may occur that we will remain faithful to God in our worship to Him. How do we worship the Lord? Look to Him and raise your hands, Lie down or on your knees, or a combination. The choice is yours. What to say during our worship of God? Remind Him of who He is, how great He is, and the things He has done for you.

The following two paragraphs are a comparison between true worshipers and regular worshipers.

True worshipers are believers that come to God in complete consecration. When the Lord sees our heart is clean towards Him, we will gain His attention.

Regular worshipers are believers that come to God with other things on their minds. This action makes the individual hesitate and not able to settle themselves to worship the Lord. This attitude is our fault. God is always there, but we are not there for Him.
