

Outer Growth

But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members.

I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then with the mind I myself serve the law of God; but with the flesh the law of sin.

Outer Growth is the physical structure of the human being that contains the brain, mind, and the other five senses that work together for development over time. The life experience for each human will be the result of background, environment, and social group. As each person grows physically, some learn about God in general terms and adapt quickly to their surroundings: while others do not. However, the early teen years are where some of us become vulnerable to the ungodly way of life and unknowingly make wrong decisions.

All human beings were born in sin. Even though we did not commit any wrongdoing being alive at birth, just learning at that stage, we have the sin mentality within our body due to the first man and woman made. Our mind and body are against the inner portion of our being. Therefore, if you spend most of your time with ungodly things, the body will be alert and active. If you try to do the opposite, you might be surprised. However, if you test yourself right now for five or ten minutes and do something godly such as kneel and pray, listen to heavenly choir music, read the Bible, pay attention to how the body reacts. If your body acts differently from the ungodly way, this tells you which part of you is in control: the physical. The spiritual area in your life is the slave to the flesh. When it is time to eat or rest, it may become active and alert again.

Our flesh will conflict with our spirit when we do not follow through with whatever test we encounter. We contemplate if we should continue or not. At times, unexpected distractions occur, or somebody will divert our attention to something else. If you mention God to other associates that might not be into that, they might try almost anything to get you off track. The flesh might make you extremely busy to avoid you doing any spiritual things by feeding your past desires. We either be all in for God or all out. Casual people will become casualties.
