Ever wonder what would happen if we treated our Bible like we treat our cell phones?

What if we carried it around in our purses or pockets?

What if we flipped through it several times a day?

Ever wonder what would happen if we treated people in our family, associates, friends, the neighbors like we treat our cell phones?

We would have a deeper bond and be more conscious of each other's needs. Our focus will be attentive to the individuals we encounter that surround us. Our way of life will be different from the people we meet each day. The greeting would be more sincere, and our actions will show that we care. The conversation will be kind, and our manners toward others will be respectful.

We would not take for granted the gifts received from others in the past. Security of items borrowed would make us take the necessary precautions to return them in good standing.

Safety awareness will be our priority as we run errands and fulfill our agendas. We would make sure to abide by the rules and regulations of society. Dress appropriately according to the occasion or wear attire to fit with the season.

What would happen if we treated people like we treat our cell phones? The results will be entirely different from how we live with society now.
